Package Deal for Stainless & Aerospace Materials Conferences

Stay on and join us for AMM Events' Aerospace Materials Conference held in conjunction with the Stainless event on May 17-18, 2011 at the Marriott City Center in Pittsburgh.

The U.S. stainless steel market is heading into a year that will keep everybody on its toes again.

Demand is rising strong in some segments, whilst still being sluggish in others. Will the momentum hold for the 2nd half of this year? Prices are up, but how much this is based on Nickel, Chromium and Molybdenum price hikes? Is it a good time to forget about the crisis that is behind us and invest to stay ahead?

All in all, things look good, and the year ahead will once again separate the "men from boys". The 25th Stainless and its Alloys Conference in Pittsburgh will help you to decide on which side of the market you are on.
